

BRAIN-BOT OR NOT ?

When Penpal couldn't sleep, how did his dad help?

Who should make the Prophet (pbuh) their role model?

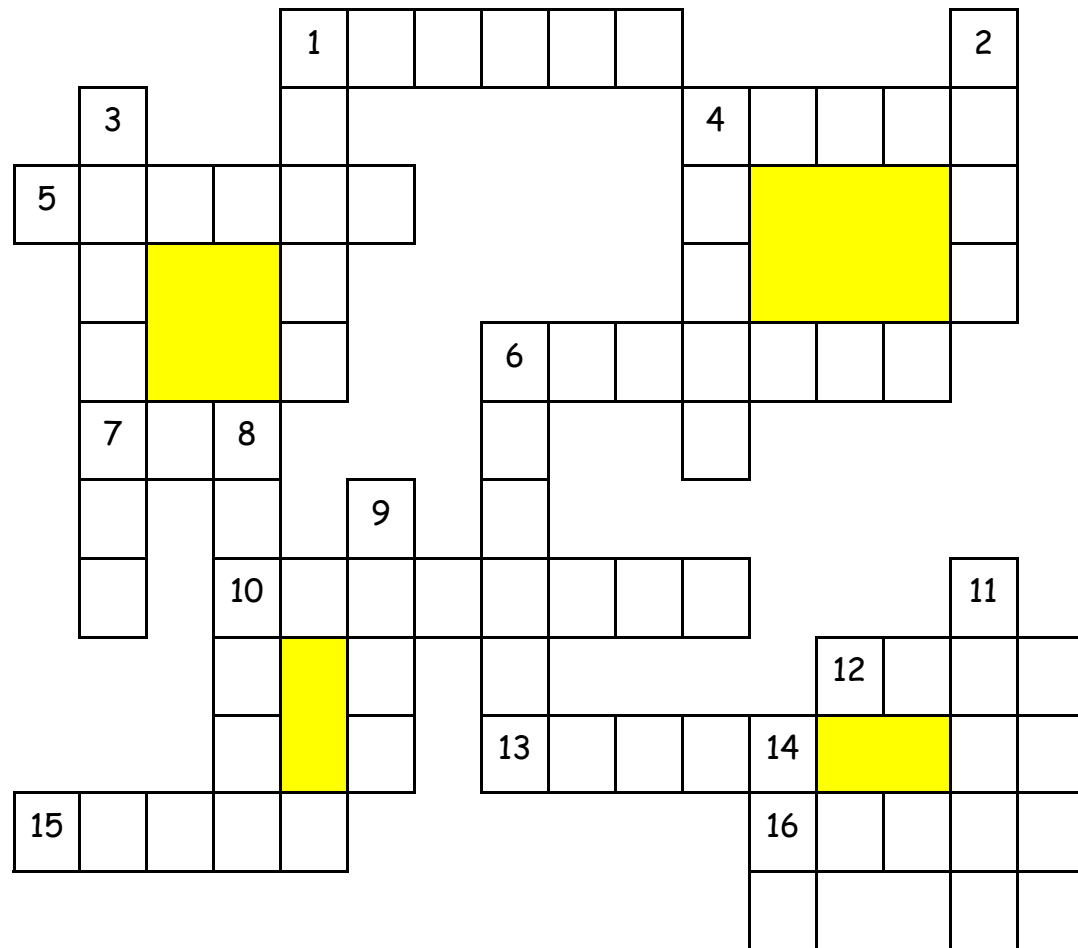

What did Uwrah report to the Makkans?

What benefit does honey give?

What do people who love the Prophet (pbuh) do?

PUZZLE PAGE

INSIDE A MOSQUE

DOWN CLUES ACROSS

1. Many mosques have a _____ where children can learn the Qur'an.
2. Many mosques have a _____ for various functions.
3. You cook food in the _____.
4. _____ is the book of Allah.
6. _____ was designed to reflect the imams voice back.
8. _____ is used to counting the amount of Zikr you do.
9. A semi-spherical shape on top of a mosque.
11. We face towards the _____ when we pray our Salah.
14. We straighten our _____ before starting Salah.

1. You remove your shoes before you step on to the _____.
4. When we pray Salah we face the _____.
5. The Imam stands on the _____ to give the Jummah khutbah.
6. In some mosques the Mu'adhin climbs up the _____ to give Adhan.
7. Muslims often wear a _____ on their head.
10. We place our shoes on the _____ before entering the Masjid.
12. An _____ leads the Salah.
13. Mosques have shelves full of _____ for people to study.
15. We must perform _____ before we pray our Salah.
16. A Masjid is the house of _____.

YATEEM MOSQUE, BAHRAIN

All Muslims love our Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) and try to follow his example.

When you love someone, you want to be like that person and do what he or she does; look like that beloved person; learn about that person; wear similar clothes to that clothes and do whatever that person says.

Many of us love our parents so much that we want to be like them when we grow up. We have been told that we should love our Prophet (pbuh) more than our father, more than our children and more than the whole of mankind.

The prophet (pbuh) had the best of character and everything he did was according to the Qur'an. To show our love for the Prophet (pbuh) we must make sure that everything we do is also according to the Qur'an and the Sunnah.

This belongs to _____ so hands off!

Assalamu-alaykum, everyone.

I couldn't get to sleep the other night. It was awful. I tried everything but my brain wouldn't switch off.

Dad came up and said I'll tell you a story, maybe that will help you fall asleep.

He started telling me about the life of our Prophet (pbuh) and the Sahabah. He told me about the Hijra and how the Muslims were so happy when the Prophet (pbuh) arrived in Madina safely.

The Muslims loved him so much even though many had not seen him before.

My dad then told me about when he went to Madina and how he cried so much when he had to leave Madina and come home.

After my dad finished I was even more excited and couldn't sleep. I kept thinking how cool it would have been to meet the Prophet and live at his time. Penpal

Haram is something we never touch, As we love our Prophet very much

If love is what you want to show in following Sunnah don't be slow

KIDS ONLY

KIDS ONLY

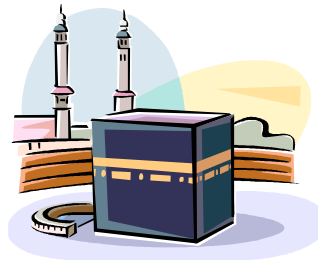

Follow the Sunnah of al-Amin And from all sins stay well clean

The prophet is the best of Mankind To this fact don't be blind

PEACE MISSION

The prophet Muhammad (pbuh) saw in a dream that he was at the Holy Ka'bah performing Umrah with his companions. This dream took place in Madina in the sixth year after the Migration of Muslims from Makkah to Madina.

The Muslims were very excited when the news spread of this dream. Soon, the Prophet (pbuh) and his companions began to make preparation to perform this Umrah. They were especially excited because they could worship Allah at the holy Ka'bah. They had missed Makkah very much over all these years.

When the Muslims approached Makkah, they setup camp at a place called Hudaibiyah. The Makkans did not want the Muslims to perform this Umrah so they began to cause trouble. They then sent delegations to speak to the Muslims. Some of these delegations did not speak politely to the Muslims but the Muslims still dealt respectfully with them.

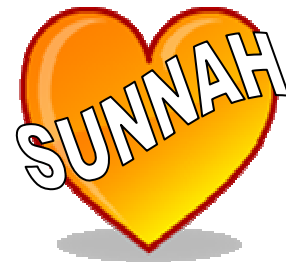

When Urah bin Mas'ud came to speak to the Muslims and find out what their intentions were, he had a chance to see the Muslim community. He spoke to the Muslims and then went back.

He advised the Makkans to let the Muslims perform the Umrah in peace. He explained that the Muslims were on a mission of peace and only wanted to worship Allah at this noble house (the Ka'bah). He told them about how he had seen such love and dedication to the Prophet (pbuh) that no king or ruler had enjoyed.

He continued that when the Prophet (pbuh) spoke, they would lower their voices so that they could all hear this great man. When Muhammad (pbuh) performed Wudhu, the Muslims would not let the water even fall to the ground. They loved Muhammad (pbuh) so much that the Muslims would never forsake or leave the Prophet (pbuh) for anything.

Assalamu-alaykum, its easy to say that we love the prophet (pbuh). However, if we really love the Prophet (pbuh), we would follow his example (sunnah); follow his commands and behave just like him. If we truly loved our Prophet (pbuh), he would be a role model for us. PP

It is our duty to love our Prophet (pbuh) even more than we love anyone or anything else. A way of getting the love of our Prophet (pbuh) is by practicing his

How many Sunnahs do you know?

Five empty rounded rectangular boxes for writing the number of sunnahs known.

Five empty rounded rectangular boxes for writing the sunnahs.

Try to incorporate these sunnah into your life

DID YOU KNOW?

Modern research has proven that honey is effective when used to treat gastric or peptic stomach ulcers.

About 1400 years ago the Prophet (pbuh) advised the use of honey as a cure to a man who's brother had similar stomach problems. After a few dozes he was cured.

HISTORY

When Muhammad (pbuh) was six years old, his mother Amina passed away.

His grandfather, Abdul Mutallib, began to look after Him after that.